Council Plans Bond Issue to Finance New Sewer Project

And Plumbing Ordinance is Passed to Make New Apartments
Their Way Henceforth

Sweeping Improvement

Is Anticipated by "Nuisance" Law
It Bans Ugliness and Blare

Burgess Frank Schriber presented to Narberth Borough Council Monday night the need for improvements and alterations in borough ordinances. First among the problems was that of traffic control, which has been becoming more acute. (See separate item.)

A second message from the tax assessor was to the effect that the assessment on the new apartment must soon be made. And advice was sought from council because of the apartment's importance, not only in itself but as a standard for future developments.

The Burgess next reported that the planning commission is considering the question of a petition made last month that a playground for small children be created on Iona avenue near Montgomery.

The planning commission was urged, also, to open up the possibilities of co-operation between town and township, and to consider specifically the traffic hazard at the boundary of the two jurisdictions. (See editorial.)

And here's what happened

Remember that celebrated item May 13 about "charged-wire fences put on a cash basis?" It concerned an ordinance that is leveled not only at electrically charged spite fences, but also at overhanging signs and unsightly signs of any sort, and dilapidated buildings and commercial and political loud speakers—vehicular and otherwise—all turned detrimental to the dignity and peace of the town.

Monday night the measure was passed on second and third (FINAL) readings, and is now a law, very much so. (See page 8 for the legal phraseology.) Attorneys Roland Floor, police committee, and Henry Frye, borough solicitor, went to town in wording the law, one of four ordinances that kept Council busy until 11:30. "This said the Burgess will have some discretion as to what constitutes a nuisance, which makes him, so far as political sound wagons are concerned, a democratic (and Republican) czar.

A communication was read, Chestnut avenue property owners seeking new surface-drainage pipe from 116 Chestnut to Wynnewood road. Indication that they will get it ere long was contained in an ordinance passed on first reading, which when finally approved will permit increasing the borough's debt $20,000 to finance construction and relocation of sanitary and storm water sewers.

(On the borough's $5,000,000 valuation, 20 per cent of borrowing capacity has been obligated; the extra $20,000 would add 20 per cent, using up a total of 40 per cent of legal borrowing capacity.)

One big reason for sewer expense, according to the Burgess, is new apartments, that can overtax capacity of the mains. The plumbing ordinance (see page 8) deals with all and sundry, stiffening fees for certain plumbing installations. Had it been in force before, George Supler, superintendent of public works, would have been able to collect from Montgomery.

Leadership

Will be Parent-Teachers'
Topic Monday.

Narberth's P. T. A. will hear, at a public meeting in the Narberth School Monday evening, the first in its series of talks on the subject, "Educate for Living." Walter Mabie Wood, consultant and lecturer on personal and institutional problems, will talk on "The fine art and practice of leadership."

An executive board meeting will precede the regular session. The present, Mrs. Charles L. Viguers, Jr., will preside. Mrs. Ellsworth Clarke's program committee, which met Monday to plan, consists of the Rev. R. B. Deer, Scoutmaster Knoll, Principal Drennon, Corwin Perisho, H. McCloud and Mrs. W. P. Dunnington, Mrs. E. A. Whiting, Mrs. Allan Kirk, Mrs. Paul Boyd, Mrs. W. G. Briner, Miss Eleanor Rarick and Mrs. George Woodrow, who has charge of program music.

At the teachers' tea for mothers, 3 P. M., Wednesday, Mrs. Dorothy Waldo Phillips, child-psychologist well known hereabout, will discuss "Study courses which will be given on adult education. First such meeting will be 2:30 the 26th, in the school auditorium. Adult education chairman, Mrs. Viola Mitchell, Narberth 2995, will be glad to tell more.

Haven for Austrian Scientist

The Narberth office of Robert J. Nash has rented to Doctor Erich Urbach the property, 102 Woodside, which will shortly be occupied by Doctor and Mrs. Urbach and their three children. Dr. Urbach has been appointed Associate in Dermatology and Syphilology in the Medical School of the University of Pennsylvania. He is from Vienna.

Study How to Halt Trouble With Traffic

Fines Are Slapped on Non-Stop-Sign Passers:
$120 From 30

PARKING IS CURTAILED

Increased hazards from traffic in Narberth were indicated at council meeting Monday, when report was made of 38 stop-sign violations—21 of them at Essex avenue intersection—for the month of September. Haled before Squire Horace Smalley, 30 passers-by were fined a total of $120 and costs.

All-night parkers reached a month's total of 74, and there were 24 other parking violations.

The Keystone Automobile Club, surveying traffic at request of the Planning Commission, reported 2500 cars a day on Haverford avenue, 1450 on Narberth, 700 on Essex and 630 on Forest. Legal parking spaces, 132 in the business district, room for 1220 cars, if parked one hour each—whereas only 623 cars parked, in fact. A recommendation was adopted Monday by council, extending restricted-to-one-hour parking zone (8 A. M. to 6 P. M.) to both sides of Grayling, from Windsor to Haverford; and cutting down parking time to half an hour on both sides of Haverford, between Narberth and Essex. (See editorial.)

Several accidents were reported for the month, including one when a motorist, looking for a house number in the darkness, backed into a parked car, causing $10 damage.

On recommendation of Lower Merion Police Chief Samuel Gearhart, it was decided to get a radio transmitter for Narberth's police car, which already has a receiver.

Five men were arrested, it was reported, for drunk and disorderly conduct last month, and two robberies were done.

The Monetary System

Next Tuesday Dr. Gerald Swope, headmaster of West Chester Teachers College, will talk on international affairs.

Dr. Benjamin Rush

The Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter of N. S. D. A. R. will open the season with a luncheon meeting next Monday at 1 P. M. at Eskine Hall, Haverford.

Flower Talk

Slides and Exhibit at Women's Club

Dr. Edgar T. Wherry, assistant professor of Botany at the University of Pennsylvania, will show colored slides of wildflowers of eastern Pennsylvania when he speaks at the regular meeting of the Women's Community Club Tuesday at 2 o'clock in the community building.

Dr. Wherry, president of the American Fern Society and vice-president of the National Society for the Conservation of Wildflowers, is active in the state wildflower preserve at Bowman Hill. His slides of that preserve will be especially interesting to club women, as they visited Bowman Hill last year. He is the author of "Wild Flowers of Mt. Desert Island, Maine," and the recent popular book, "Guide to Eastern Ferns."

There will also be an exhibit of flower arrangements at the meeting, under the direction of the garden department, Mrs. J. J. Martin, chairman. Ribbons will be awarded and members are urged to bring anything from miniature bouquets to large group arrangements.

The Club chorus will meet at one o'clock Tuesday in the American Legion wing of the community building for rehearsal under the direction of Mrs. W. R. Giles, music chairman.

Young G. O. P.

Young Republicans of Montgomery county, under the leadership of John McGarvey, county chairman, and Samuel E. Ewing, Jr., State vice-chairman, both of Bryn Mawr, are preparing for an all-day conference, dinner and dance of Southeastern Pennsylvania Young G. O. P. Saturday, October 29, at the Bellevue Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia.

The five-county regional conference will attract Young Republicans from Montgomery, Bucks, Chester, Delaware and Philadelphia counties. John H. H. Morrow, of Philadelphia, who is vice-president of the Young Republican National Federation, is chairman of the event and McGarvey and Ewing are members of the committee on arrangements.

Judge Arthur H. James, gubernatorial nominee, and United States Senator James J. Davis, aspirant for re-election, will attend the event with members of the entire state ticket. They will address the assemblage.

The day's activities will open with a conference at 2:30 in the afternoon. A dinner at 6:30 will be followed by dancing.

First Aid for Police

Percy H. Clark, Jr., chairman of First Aid of the Main Line Branch No. 1, American Red Cross, announces that beginning Monday the American Red Cross will intensively train in first aid instruction 50 police representatives selected from forces in Philadelphia, Montgomery and nearby counties.

Classes will be held each evening from 7 to 10, in the Lower Merion Township Hall, at Ardmore, for two weeks, conducted by Dr. W. J. Fenton.

National Art Week

Will be observed, as in the past, the first week in November. In Philadelphia, paintings will be displayed on Chestnut street. On the Main Line, leading merchants are considering organizing a local display—provided there is enough interest shown by those who wish to exhibit.

Those who would like their paintings shown are invited to inform the committee by writing Tom Elwood, 110 Forest avenue, Narberth.

New Deal Candidates

Will be Welcomed at Ardmore
Monday

Charles Alvin Jones, Democratic candidate for Governor, will visit the Main Line Monday when he will speak at Democratic headquarters, Williamson Hall, 50 W. Lancaster avenue, Ardmore.

Jones, who will be accompanied by Leo C. Mundy, Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, is scheduled to arrive in Ardmore at 2 P. M.

Joining them in the county-wide tour will be Carroll L. Rutter, Pottstown, Democratic candidate for Congress; Francis R. Taylor, candidate for State Senator, and Joseph G. Kane, candidate for the State Legislature from this district. Also Joseph F. McElwee, of Merion, Montgomery County Democratic chairman; James W. Potter, county secretary; David M. Fellman, recording secretary; Miss Maude R. Kneule, county vice-chairman.

John T. Durnin, of Overbrook Hills, Lower Merion and Narberth Democratic leader, will head a local reception committee for the candidates.

Members of the committee will include R. Meade Smith, Frank M. Adams, Francis P. McGurk, Lower Merion and Narberth Democratic campaign manager; Fred Braun, David Conover, Charles DiPhillips, Mrs. Florence Dougherty, William J. Carey, James M. Grundy, Charles R. Gamble, Anthony Durante, Miss Mary K. Gibson, Mrs. Stella Greenfield.

Also Joseph K. Roach, James Gold, Rev. M. M. Lewis, George Thomas, J. Wallace Reid, George Billingslie, William Lafore, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lancaster, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shober, John M. Kearney, Joseph Magarity, Mr. and Mrs. William McAndrew, Percival Lukens, Ambrose Connelly, Mrs. Emma Eakins, Miss Frances Dougherty, John Mundy Lynch, Mrs. Kathryn O'Brien, Mrs. Samuel Young, Mrs. R. Meade Smith, Mrs. Mildred Thompson, Mary A. Vaughn, Mrs. Esther White, Mrs. E. Waring Wilson, Cuthbert Kershaw, John O'Donnell, Miss Josephine Fitzgerald, Thomas Reynolds, and Miss Helen Powers.

Political Pot

October 21 is the last day to change party affiliations before November election.

October 29 is the last day to have an address changed when a registered voter moves within a district.

October 29 is the last day to ask for assistance in voting.

Young Democrats of town and township Tuesday night at Ardmore chose as honorary chairman George H. Earle, 4th, son of the governor. Chosen chairman was Edward Vassallo, Bala-Cynwyd, with Elizabeth McKee, Ardmore, elected first vice chairman.

Many Main Liners attended last night's big Republican rally dinner at Pottstown. Among those welcoming gubernatorial candidate Judge Arthur H. James, principal speaker, were First District Assemblyman Lambert Cadwalader, Villanova, and State committeeman Fred C. Peters, Ardmore.

Julius Ziegler, township commission president, Tuesday night at the Narberth Legion Room told borough's Young Republicans that good government is that which confines itself to governing and doesn't cost too much. Lower Merion and Narberth, friendly neighbors, have that type, he indicated. Narberth's Young G. O. P. will dance Hallowe'en at Merion Mansions, with party election night at the Arcadia.

Democratic Women Tonight

Mrs. J. K. Mathieson, sister of Charles Alvin Jones, Democratic candidate for governor, will address a meeting of Democratic women tonight at Williamson Hall, 50 W. Lancaster avenue, Ardmore.

Mrs. Mathieson, who is chairman of the Women's division of the Democratic campaign committee of Montgomery county, lives at Meadowbrook. Leonard A. Talone, Conshohocken, state deputy attorney general, will be another speaker.

The meeting, called by John T. Durnin, Lower Merion and Narberth Democratic committee chairman, will be presided over by Mrs. Mildred Thompson, Merion Democratic com-

Communism Rejected

As Panacea—St. Margaret's Men
Hear of Church's Opposition

Rev. Vincent A. McQuade, O. S. A., Ph. D., of Villanova, addressed St. Margaret's Holy Name Society Tuesday on Communism, which he described as subversive of Christian belief and doctrine.

The speaker called for a better definition of the Christian mind and a more acute realization of what religion offered for the redress of that injustice which was giving Communism its present widespread vogue.

He submitted that the Catholic Church constituted the supreme court of moral values and he claimed that the adoption of the principles enumerated in the Papal encyclicals would produce economic equity and peace among the nations.

The reverend speaker also declared that the abuses of capitalism were of a grievous order, primarily because spiritual factors had ceased to be of foremost consideration in human relationships, and he said that the confusion will continue until man again becomes deeply aware that his chief concern should be for his eternal destiny and that he is a victim of delusion when he stresses his gains of material things.

Rev. Dr. McQuade made it plain that he regarded Communism as a large sin begotten of other sins, and he called on his auditors to school themselves on exactly what their church had to offer in combating the false doctrine and to bring to pass the leavening influences which the situation called for.

According to township building reports, construction has taken place during the past nine months of this year to the amount of $3,754,571. This is an increase over a similar period in 1937 of $33,594, and a marked jump over Depression years.

'Twas on King's Highway, Here, That Right-Hand Driving Began

The King's highway toward Lancaster saw its beginning in 1687, five years after the first ferry was provided across the Schuylkill at High street (now Market street). That road was muddy, furrowed with ruts, and strewn with huge stones. To Downing's Tavern (in what is now Downingtown), was a long hard journey.

In 1770, when the city of Philadelphia had an annual income of 800 pounds, one-fourth of it came from the Market Street ferry, which had been taken over by the city.

First Schuylkill bridge, recommended by a commission which included Benjamin Franklin, was opened January 1, 1805—the first cov-

How Many Hereabout Don't Attend Church?

Denominations Plan Religious Census of 3,000 Homes to Find Out

ORGANIZE 200 CALLERS

For the purpose of obtaining not contributions but information, Narberth churches last Sunday completed plans for a religious census of the borough and of Penn Valley, Merion Park, Wynnewood and Merion.

Two hundred members will organize in the Lutheran Church, Sunday the 30th, at 2:15. They will receive 3,000 some booklets and questionnaire cards.

The resident who tells his census-taker that he now attends any one church, will be felicitated. But he who attends church non-regularly, and expresses a denominational preference, will soon receive a ministerial call, and the religious and friendly help that a church-community can give.

The meeting last Sunday was the second of its kind, at the Rev. Gibson Bell's home in Wynnewood. Clarence H. Woolmington, elected chairman the previous Sunday, presided. In addition to Dr. Bell, ministers co-operating are Dr. Archer E. Anderson, Rev. Robert E. Keighton, Rev. Cletus A. Senft and Rev. W. V. Middleton; Samuel J. Bunting, Jr., represented Merion Friends Meeting.

Laymen on the committee, which is the outcome of ideas that originated with workers in two of the churches include, Chairman C. H. Woolmington, Secretary T. A. Elwood and Chester G. Jones, William C. Griffiths, George A. Purring, J. C. Van New Kirk, Charles S. Leech, Charles C. Rees, Herbert L. Clevenger, Adam H. Wilson and Frederick A. Egmore.

The Fireside

Have you heard that:

Miss Mina Lyle, 223 Avon, is being given a round of parties this week. It seems that Miss Lyle, daughter of the Dana O. Lyles, and Mr. Benjamin Hughes, son of the Joseph T. Hughes, of Aldan Park, are to be married October 28 in Old Saint David's Church. Miss Jean Staples is to be maid of honor, Mr. Charles Hughes best man, and Mr. George Gibbilar, Jr., and Mr. Wayne Lyle are to be ushers. The parties? A surprise shower Monday evening given by the coming maid of honor, who is president of the Junior Women's Community Club, and another party today with Mrs. Edward W. Heymann, Senior Club president, entertaining. The Hughes will live at 210 Essex.

Seasoned by Service

Most of the people in this company are in telephone work to stay. This is an organization of men and women seasoned by service and tested by time. The figures prove it. More than half of our 16,000 people have had ten or more years of telephone experience. Three thousand have served 20 years or more. Nearly 750 have been in this business from 30 to 50 years! And those who have reached top positions have earned and learned their jobs by rising through the ranks. Today this state and nation enjoy the finest telephone service in the world. It is our aim to keep your service constantly improving at a price that insures a fair deal for all.

When orders are few and far between and sales costs must be cut, smart business men turn to the telephone. Long Distance calls cover out-of-the-way customers quickly, easily and economically. They bring in extra sales at a cost that leaves you a profit. The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

 Narberth has on record an oddity; a veritable phenomenon; no less than a completely driverless automobile accident. The other afternoon a harm- less looking truck was left in a drive- way while the driver went about his business. All of a sudden the truck started to roll, because the brake had come off. Down the driveway it went and across the street, right into a parked car, also empty. There were no harsh words; no fainting women; no bones broken (though a few dam- aged fenders); just a small "crash," then a direct silence. Rather ghost- ly, we call it.

One just never knows what cars will do these days. We are reminded of a law we once heard of in Massa- chusetts. This law always puzzled us, because, being of a literal turn of mind, we tried to visualize a hypo- thetical case, but never were able to figure it out. The law, actually passed by the Massachusetts Legisla- ture (on one of its busy days, we try to state that if two vehicles ap- proach an intersection simultaneously from different directions, each vehicle shall stop and wait until the other has passed. We're still waiting.

Around the Town

Failure to observe a stop sign caused a crash at Windsor and Essex last Friday. The car of Mrs. Eleanor H. Nash, of Narberth Hall Apart- ment, struck one operated by Dor- othy Wilson, 540 Beechwood. No one was injured, but the cars were bat- tered up.

A collision at Bryn Mawr and Montgomery, October 6: the car of Miss Lillian Patterson, niece of Governor Earle, Haverford, struck the truck of Patrick McSorley, 419 N. Narberth; both cars were damaged and Miss Patterson was shaken.

Much rubbing and polishing was done last week at the fire house by James Gillespie. The hook-and- ladder and the pumper appeared in Ardmore's parade of Veterans of Foreign Wars on Saturday.

Louise Platt, former resident of Bala-Cynwyd and student of Lower Merion Senior High School, appears in "Spawn of the North," which comes to the Egyptian, October 18, 19, 20. Miss Platt made her first appearance in "I Met My Love Again," with Henry Fonda. Since then she has under- gone intensive training and handles the part which has been assigned to her in this picture very capably.

A Half Century

For Dr. Walton of Anthwyn Road

This month marks the fiftieth anni- versary of the entrance of Dr. Wil- ham G. Walton, whose theories have often appeared in Our Town, into the field of optics.

As an errand boy with Queen and Company, starting October 23, 1888, Dr. Walton received his first lesson in optics. After serving with the house of George Mayer he had the op- portunity of assisting twice a week in the clinic of the Wills Hospital. In 1902 he opened offices, received his doctorate in 1907, and in 1910 pur- chased his present office building at 4144 Germantown avenue.

As president for the Pennsylvania Society he took an active part in the development of optometry and in the early struggle of the profession for recognition. He was one of the founders and is still a trustee of the Pennsylvania State College of Opto- metry. Some of the inventions to his credit are: the U. S. lens demonstra- tor, the Walton phoriameter, the Wal- ton convergo-scope. He also developed the Walton blinder (occluder) of zylomite.

In addition to his city office, Dr. Walton maintains a residence office at 117 Anthwyn, Merion. He spends ev- ery Thursday at the clinic of the Pennsylvania State College of Opto- metry at 1809 Spring Garden.

 HISTORIC TREE PASSES

One of the series of heavy storms which beset the Main Line this sea- son uprooted an old pear tree on the rear lawn of the Super residence, Montgomery avenue, Narberth.

"Aunt Emily" Super claims this tree was in a flourishing condition seventy-two years ago when she and her brothers moved into the house which stands today, and that she, as a child, was told it had sprouted from a core thrown by a passenger from a car window of the Philadelphia and Columbia Railroad.

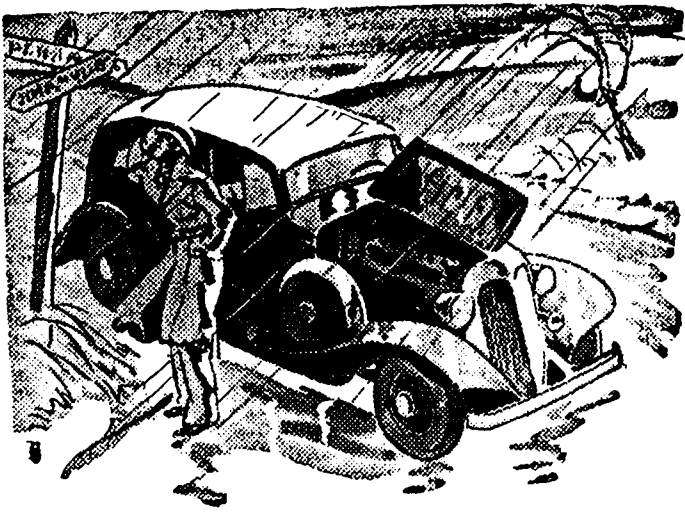

Here and there the exact course of this first railroad for general com- merce in the State still may be traced running south of Montgomery avenue, passing close to a spring on the Super property, crossing the pike between the Barclay property and Wynnewood avenue, cutting north a short distance, then paralleling the highway again. It is in the section just east of Cherry lane that many of the old stone ties have been found. Regular service to Columbia, eighty- four and one-half miles, inaugurated in early June of 1834, completed communication between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh by rail and canal.

The Squibble Scrapbook says: "The fellow who lives on a bluff deserves a good shove."

Eighty views of Czecho-Slovakia and France and Germany were shown by Everett H. Bickley, Cynwyd in- ventor, recently at the Rotary lunch- een and also at the Bala-Cynwyd-Neighborhood Club. The shots in- cluding one from a train making 60 m. p. h. are excellent enlargements, 8x10, of tiny one-inch films.

Providing glasses and things for school children is a part of local Ro- tary's work rarely mentioned. Two borough children were found by the school nurse to require dental care; the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Club has just paid the bill.

Miss Virginia Eyre, sister of Mrs. Robert L. Russel, 126 Chestnut, asks to have this paper addressed person- ally to her hereafter instead of to the U. S. Indian Hospital, Red Lake Agency, Minn., where she is a nurse. Located 38 miles from the nearest town, she feels cut off from things when the Indians get the home paper first—maybe to start fires with. Miss Eyre has just enjoyed a vacation along Lake Superior's north shore, to Fort Williams and Port Arthur in Canada, and through the Lake of the Woods district, to Winnipeg.

No new announcements from Headquarters this week, which is unusual. However, with the Cubbing Conference at the U. of Penn Christian Association Building at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with all troops working on the Fall Round-Up, and with most troops starting to work on re-registration papers there should be more than enough work to keep everybody busy.

National Headquarters in New York is urging that troops make a special effort to see the moving picture "Boy's Town," starring Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney. A picture of rare calibre, it should prove an incentive and an inspiration not only to the boys themselves, but also to Scout leaders everywhere.

The Main Line Court of Honor and Board of Review was held Tuesday evening, at Christ Church, in Penn Wynne, with many leaders and Scouts in attendance. Several boys from neighboring troops received merit badges and awards, the list for which was published last week.

Narberth No. 2

Last Saturday Narberth No. 2 held a 2 1/2-mile trail hike through the wooded section of Hollow Road, which lies between the Roberts Estate and the Schuylkill River. After making temporary camp, the troop tried to recover from the arduous walk by playing such restful games as capture the flag and by building their own fires and cooking lunch. Tests were passed and a very pleasant afternoon spent at a game of stalking, started by the Scoutmaster, M. C. Bunting. Jimmy McQuiston and Bob Compton ran off with test-passing honors.

At the regular meeting Tuesday the troop visited open house at the Bell Telephone's office in Germantown. Boys were especially interested in the voice mirror whereby each Scout was able to hear his own voice exactly as it sounds to someone else at the other end of the line. Johnny Sutton has been spending a great deal of time denying reports that he fainted dead away when his voice came back to him through the mirror.

Merion No. 2

Last Saturday our Senior Patrol went on a canoe hike up the Rancocas, from South Pemberton. Everyone had a great time, even though one member did spend considerable time drying out his clothes.

The Senior Patrol and Troop Officers plan another hike this coming week-end. It will be to Castle Rock, and some new ideas as to camping practice are to be tried out. The members going will leave Friends' Meeting House at 1:30 P. M. this Saturday.

Tonight, Merion No. 2 is holding a special investiture ceremony at 7:30, in the Friends' Meeting House, which parents and friends of the troop are urged to attend. Everett N. Strang, your neighbors join along.

NARBERTH THEATRE

This week-end, Robert Taylor, grown more manly, has the central role, with Maureen O'Sullivan as his satellite, in "The Crowd Roars," in which Mr. Taylor assumes fictitious roles due to circumstance fostered by a "Doctor Lester" type father. The dual personality of a promoter creates the triangle after said Robert finds love with Maureen. After some breathless episodes, things smooth out, not too unusually, to a pleasant finish.

"Rich Man, Poor Girl" promises a very laughable evening with Robert Young, Ruth Hussey, and Lew Ayres, Monday and Tuesday.

Wednesday and Thursday, Ann Shirley and Ruby Keeler combine delightfully to give us "Mother Carey's Chickens," with laughter and its contrast.

Of course, next week-end, "Four's a Crowd," with Olivia De Havilland, Errol Flynn and Rosalind Russell, and why don't you go find out who or what is the "fourth"?

EGYPTIAN

Now Janet Gaynor, Robert Montgomery and Franchot Tone, in "Three Loves Has Nancy," smartly dialogued, brimming with laughter, offering finished and believable characterizations.

Sunday and Monday: "The Texans," with Joan Bennett, Randolph Scott, Mae Robson. An epic of the South's struggle for freedom in the dark days after the war between the States, is excitingly and vividly portrayed.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday: "Spawn of the North," featuring George Raft, Henry Fonda, Dorothy Lamour, and the Main Line's own gift to Hollywood, Louise Platt. A panoramic view of the rugged life in America's last frontier is brought to the screen in the Alaskan drama, a story of men who "go down to the sea in ships" in the icy waters of the Arctic.

Receives Library Instruction.
Other News . . .

Miss Buckaloo has been instructing the upper grades how to find books, both fiction and non-fiction, in the library. She has also been teaching us how to use the card catalogue. This instruction will help all of us to use the library better.

October finds football in full swing. The boys have been practicing after school under the able instruction of Mr. Harkness and Mr. Wetheral. We expect to have games with Valley Forge, Friend's Central, Germantown Academy in addition to playing Waldron away, October 21, and Episcopal home, November 16. The players are: Herbert Paden, Neil Moxon, Bob Miller, John McCormick, Carl Mariani, Jim McQuiston, Bob Narrigan, Lester Peters, Bob Phillips, Ted Colahan, Dick Whiting, Jim Hutton, Howard Biddle, Bill Schofield and Allen Shubert.

VIRGINIA DUBBIN.

Last Friday Miss Hoover took charge of assembly. She showed us many of the objects she got on her visit to Mexico, exhibiting beautiful hand-made rugs dyed and woven by the Indians there, and many small objects such as little wax figures, pottery and dishes, all hand-painted and hand-made by the Mexican people. Miss Hoover told us of the origin of many different Mexican cities and explained interesting customs. She said that when she took pictures of a mother and her baby, the mother always had the child's face to protect it from evil spirits. The talk was very interesting and everyone seemed to like it.

Many of the articles that Miss Hoover brought back with her are on display in the school museum. Anyone interested is invited to see them.

Clubs in the Narberth School And their presidents

This year are: Press, Warren Vincent, editor; marionette, Peggy Sparks; library, Lois Schenck; crafts, Bob Phillips; chemistry, Fred Kuebler; needlework, Jane Bennett; boys' athletic, Greer Heindell; orchestra.

Work of the Press club is to publish the school paper.

Members of the Needlework club will learn more about sewing and also will make fancy articles.

In the Crafts club you make things out of wood, bronze, copper and many other materials.

In the Athletic club for boys many gym activities are carried on with football, soccer, basketball, and various other games.

Another interesting club is the Marionette. Members make marionettes and sometimes give little plays.

Members of the new Chemistry club perform experiments and learn about many things which we meet in everyday life.

The Library club is of great interest for anyone who likes books and who would some day like to be a librarian. This club helps take care of the library.

The clubs that seem to have the most popularity are the Press and Marionette clubs.

More Light! Here's How We're Celebrating My 20th Anniversary...

October 17, 1918, I began electric contracting and repair work here. In 1921 mine was the first radio store on the Main Line. During these 20 years we've made installations in the largest public buildings and homes in this section, and we've been of service to the smaller homes, too.

Just completed, for instance: 33 new fixtures in the Narberth School, replacing 400-watt illumination with 2000-watt, semi-indirect, easier on students' eyes and teachers' and parents' nerves.

Last year your electric shop won a national contest for selling light bulbs. It's appropriate that a new contest begins on this, my 20th anniversary . . . I subscribe, as your friend and children's friend, to the slogan:

"Save eyes with better light."

And so---here's a contest ---for YOU:

There's a basket of electric lamps in my window. Study them. Buy a carton of six lamps (any sizes) and register your name, address and guess of the total number of watts in the basketful—and the closest guesser will win a fine big turkey.

Consolation prizes will be a regular flashlight and a special pocket-size flashlight. Contest closes November 19, with prize award Thanksgiving Eve. Come, now—what's the wattage?

Because Standstill is Akin to Backsliding

Narberth's officialdom has put grit on the slippery ladder that leads to better things, and climb the heights we shall, God willing.

First step was early this year when the planning commission was formed. Its reflections on obsolete abandoned dwellings and on traffic conditions and new apartment will bear fruit in ordinances you are reading in this issue of TOWN and TOWNSHIP.

Almost too incensably for many to notice, the borough had run down at the heels. A new program has been adopted.

Burgess Schrepfer opined that the business section has become "South Streetish," perhaps because a few storekeepers are unaware of the advantages of the pleasant village atmosphere that attracts shoppers to many a suburb. Los Angeles' Carmel-by-the-Sea, Cleveland's Shaker Heights.

Lawns rutted and muddled by drive-way-less cars, can be given a new lease on suburban beauty.

The town has made it a costly inconvenience for circulars to clutter the lawns. Hucksters and peddlers are required to have licenses.

Some of the new regulations can be construed by the local shopkeeper as restraints on his own business. But he who lives in Narberth, and who can catch the vision of a day when Narberth town may restore the fading prestige of the "Swank Main Line," will be richly rewarded. For the rich Eastern Main Line, at least, will swarm to the borough as its logical shopping center when that market place becomes sufficiently attractive.

How the Town and Township

May co-ordinate a needed function is recommended by the borough's burghers: that co-operation between Lower Merion and Narberth be considered to diminish the traffic hazard at the boundary of the two jurisdictions.

And by the way, Lower Merion's commissioners from General Wayne and Merion: now that Narberth's sidewalks have been made suitable for roller-skating and such, how about extending the township's walk-improvements? . . . Montgomery pike, for instance—both sides. (Little-known fact: borough jurisdiction ends ten feet south of the pike's south side.) And part of Haverford and Narberth avenues. Less cracks, please?

You Could Walk

Half across Narberth in the time it takes to walk from a parking lot at 69th street half a mile to the shopping center there. So let's not be distressed about the extension of limited-parking-zones here. Room for more shoppers—that's the thing. And a suggestion to women, bless them: for temper's and figure's sake, it's best to park outside the temporary zone, when getting a permanent.

Last week's paper

Could have been improved upon, and your editor sincerely hopes he will be enabled to do so. There were difficulties. Call it growing pains, please.

The Music Column

Which began last week is authored by Joseph E. Barone, head of the Bryn Mawr Conservatory, well-known violinist, conductor of eleven orchestras from Norristown to Trenton, including Narberth School's and the Main Line Symphony.

"When in Doubt About Anything, phone Narberth 3637."—So read the directory circulated in this section in spring by the Narberth Business Council. All sorts of information have trickled over the Bell wires since then. . . . Where's Shibe Park, how to find the Zoo, when to go to church, who does laundry work, who will watch my house this evening, and technical questions that only a World Book-equipped household could answer . . . and does answer,

City Court, for 89 of his plumbing inspections, $90 instead of $6. And there were other loopholes in the law, which the ordinance, state-endorsed, plugs.

Another ordinance passed, like the bond issue, on first reading only, would prohibit the use of sidewalks as driveways, unless they are driveways. . . . Exempt are stores and public and private garages, with curb-less drives, but not car-owners who are lawn- and front yard parkers. Vehicles and goods would not be allowed stored out of doors within 50 feet of the street. (See editorial.)

Other matters before council:

Highway Chairman Walter Fox announced completion of the county and resurfacing of Haverford avenue as of Monday, and a start on Windsor avenue. . . . Application for county and in repaving Beechwood lane has been granted, and the work, partly paid by its property-owners, will follow Windsor's.

Sidewalk paving, completing the work recently done by direct order of property owners, will soon be done by four local contractors whose bids totaled $884.17. (See editorial.)

Because the low bidder could not meet specifications for a dump truck, new bids are asked (page 8).

September's alterations and repairs were reported as $1542: Mrs. Elizabeth Munro, 110 Forest (center of TOWN and TOWNSHIP); Mr. McCaffrey, 128 Conway; Frank Gioni, 318 Woodbine; Oscar Sonn, 113 Elmhurst; Earl Marshall, 330 Price; and David S. Duncan, 6 Sabine.

Nine oil burner permits were reported for the month, totaling $1336: Elizabeth Richardson, Wynnewood and Sabine; Ira McCulley, 211 Hampden; H. Ricklin, 205 Haverford; T. G. Atherton, 20 Woodside; T. C. Hutchinson, 24 Woodside; M. H. Barclay, 1268 Montgomery; Daniel Leitch, 227 Essex; R. A. Mizner, 101 Woodbine; and Morris Weinstein, 109 N. Narberth.

A Letter of Thanks

To the Editor:

As has been announced in news items previously, The Harold D. Speakman Post of the American Legion has liquidated all of the outstanding debts incurred in the construction of the Community War Memorial.

At this time, we want to express to our many friends our sincere thanks for their wholehearted support, both financially and otherwise, of this project, which we feel has been a worthwhile addition to our Community Playground, and one of which we are all justly proud. Without that support, our job would have been almost impossible of accomplishment.

This letter is written to try to express the feelings of our members to each one of those who helped; to try to thank them individually, but with a realization that it would be impractical.

when it can. For Narberth 3637 is the phone number of the editor of this paper, and the free information as part of the community service of TOWN and TOWNSHIP. Young people (and elders) who want work, write this paper telling about themselves, and the information, kept confidential, is used when this paper's readers ask Narberth 3637 for a girl to wash dishes and look after children, or a high school girl to watch the house on an evening, and so on.

King's Highway

Legislature in 1792. Seven years later Lancaster, largest inland settlement in the United States, was capital of Pennsylvania (until 1812 when it moved to Harrisburg).

A writer in 1796 pronounced that turnpike a masterpiece of its kind. It did not always follow the course of the original King's highway as where Old Lancaster road diverges from the Lancaster turnpike from Haverford College to a point beyond Wayne, is identified with it for a short space beyond Rosemont, then has a separate existence for a longer distance, finally coming together beyond Berwyn.

That Old Lancaster road was called the Conestoga road because it was the favored route of the great Conestoga freighters, which took their name from the Conestoga river near Lancaster.

On the right

The heavy wagons were driven by a man who sat on the left wheel horse in order that he might have his right hand free to use his whip on the horses to the right and ahead of him. And, therefore, when this vehicle passed another wagon on the road approaching from the opposite direction, they would pass to the right so they could see if their wheels to the left were clear. The deep ruts formed in the roads by these wagons were followed by the lighter vehicles, and gradually the practice of right-hand driving was established in America. And that's why your car's steering wheel is on the left.

Later, there will be discussed the Pennsylvania railroad's part in making the "Swank Main Line," and in leading to make it. . . . How a present Philadelphia philosophy would make us left handed stepchildren.

Around the Town

The borough council is glad to see that citizens are taking advantage of the invitation to attend meetings. Monday night's visitor to the council room was none other than a shaggy black and white dog sort of a setter-spaniel. His entrance evoked a smiling welcome from council members, and interest in his presence bade fair to eclipse the bills under consideration. The dog, however, seemed aloof from any controversy, and proceeded to stretch out for a comfortable snooze.

Joan Trotter, 10, of 401 N. Narberth, had an exciting experience last Friday, when a large chicken hawk flew against her window, broke the glass, and fell into the room. Joan, sick in bed, covered her head with the covers so, she said, that the bird would not peek her eyes out. The bird flew round and round the room.

The noise of the crash startled her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney J. Trotter. They immediately ran up the stairs. In the meantime, Joan, peeking cautiously from under the covers, noticed that her cocker spaniel Bonnie, was in the room. Fearing for the dog's safety, she jumped out of bed, picked up the puppy, and ran from the room.

She met her parents at the top of the steps with a cry, "An eagle's after me!" The bird, indeed, looked like an eagle, standing two feet high and having a wingspread of nearly four feet. Its wings had a whirring sound, like that of a small airplane as it made desperate attempts to escape.

When Mrs. Trotter led the chase for the bird with a large umbrella, the hawk finally flew out through the same window though its wide wings reached almost across the aperture. Mr. Trotter believes the hawk was chasing a smaller bird when it crashed against the window.

There are two friends in Penn Valley who for the nonce are barely speaking. Reason? The car of one of the gentlemen refused to start, the other morning. He had rolled it out of the garage, but there it sat. Seeing friend neighbor appear, he hailed him for assistance, and while waiting for him to come, absent-mindedly turned off the ignition switch. The indignant neighbor pushed the re-

"Candlelight"

will be produced by Narberth Players next Friday and Saturday, 21st and 22nd, at their little theatre in Elm Hall, Narberth.

Originally produced in New York in 1929, with Leslie Howard and Gertrude Lawrence in the leads, the play ran for over 100 performances in Chicago and is now running in New York in musical form to packed houses.

In the Players' production, Leslie Norris and Betty Brunel are in the leading parts, well supported by Matt Callahan, Eleanor Rarick, Bessie McAllister, William H. Muller, Francis Mitchell and Phil Reger. Fay Fetteroff, who so ably directed "Big Hearted Herbert," is in charge of the production. Special scenery and new lighting under supervision of Joseph A. Hongler and George Werner.

At the Players' meeting, Tuesday evening, in Elm Hall, over 100 were in attendance and enjoyed a mighty fine performance of a delightful comedy under the direction of Beatrice Carver. Her cast of eight young ladies gave one of the best performances yet at the monthly meetings. A number of new members were accepted. A social hour, refreshments and exhibition of posters for "Candlelight" followed.

dore Fischer, Grayling, had the members of her club—Mrs. Glenn A. Williams, Mrs. Spencer Smith, Mrs. Robert H. Price, Mrs. C. W. McMillen, Mrs. C. F. Trowbridge and Mrs. H. A. Thomson were present at luncheon bridge Tuesday... and on the same day Mrs. Albert H. Ripper, Dudley, entertained her bridge club at Erskine Hall... AND... on Saturday night, the Dohards, of Wynnewood road, father and son, surprised Mrs. R. J. Dohard with a party 22 guests had kept the secret.

Two more engagements! The William M. Mannons, Avon road, announce betrothal of their daughter, Gertrude Theresa, and George H. P. Carr, son of Councilman and Mrs. Henry P. Carr, North Narberth avenue, and the Horace B. Murrays do the same for their daughter, Miss Mary Jane, and Mr. William A. Brensinger, of Pottstown.

The Norman H. Bankarts, Narberth Hall, are the proud parents of a bouncing baby boy, Lawrence Denney, born October third! You remember Mrs. Bankart is the former Miss Frances Holding Denney, of Elkton Park.

Some folks are vacationing while we work! For instance, Misses Edythe and Mildred Thomas, Montgomery avenue, were seen last week in New York City... and Mrs. E. Warner, Milford, Delaware, has been paying Mrs. Thomas Manning, Hampden, a visit... and the Hugh B. Speeds, Chestnut, are on an auto trip to Pittsburgh, Chicago and Louisville... and the Orlo E. Cooks, Narberth Hall, will drop in on their son and daughter-in-law, the Carl Hackerts, at White Plains, N. Y., on their way to New Milford, Conn. Mrs. William Lewis, Hampden, goes with them to New York to visit her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Henry, 329 Meeting House lane, were called to New Kensington, near Pittsburgh, Tuesday, for the funeral of Mr. Henry's brother-in-law, Dr. A. S. Kaufman. He had practiced medicine 15 years.

The hurricane brought visitors to our town! The P. H. Thomas, of Atlanta, Ga., stopped with their son-in-law and daughter, the James M. Hansons, Avon, on their way to clear their property at Crown Point, R. I., of debris from the storm. They will stop again October 25 on their way home.

When you start with a wedding, you should finish with a wedding! So... The W. N. Mills, 103 Woodbine, left Wednesday for St. Louis to attend the wedding of Miss Leona Randall to their son, Mr. Stuart N. Mills. The date, October 15. The Mills were accompanied by their daughter, Miss Betty, who will be maid of honor and by her fiancé, Mr. Norman Fox, who will be best man.

outstanding new books by Mrs. E. J. Town, past chairman of literature of Montgomery county, when she spoke of new books to 45 members of the group on literature and international relations at the home of Mrs. Henry F. Dever Tuesday. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Lewis G. Crater and Mrs. D. E. Crosley.

Mrs. Town said other good books were: "Rebecca," by Daphne du Maurier; "Political Guide," by Dorothy Thompson; "News is My Job," out in November, by Edna Lee Booker, and "Testament," out next week, by R. C. Hutchinson.

Twenty-four club members enjoyed the beautiful old cloisters of the semi-monastic order of the Seventh Day Baptists, founded in 1732, when they visited them at Ephrata yesterday. Especially interesting were the pre-revolutionary implements and equipment. The trip was planned by the club's education department, Mrs. J. A. Hengler, chairman.

Narberth Juniors

Yesterday heard Mrs. Dorothy Waldo Phillips as speaker and Miss Margaret Squier in piano selections. Mrs. George Albert was hostess for the Education Committee, program sponsor.

Week from tomorrow night, the 22nd, is the Juniors' first dance this season at the Bala Golf Club, with Mrs. Glenn Williams and Mrs. C. F. Trowbridge as hostesses.

On the 27th, auspices of the Legislation Committee, John Flynn, Narberth, assistant district attorney for the county, will discuss criminal law phases. Mrs. James Tilbury will be soloist, Mrs. Robert Conly hostess.

PENN VALLEY

Hallowe'en's in the air! The Winfield Givens, Braeburn lane, plan a party to celebrate on October 28... it's in honor of their daughter, Miss Louise, and there will be 25 guests.

The entertainment goes round and round... Saturday the John H. Jeffries, Jr., held a tea to honor the Henry Holmes, of Pittsburgh, who are visiting the Raymond Keegans, of Ardmore... and then Tuesday Mrs. Jeffries entertained her Fellowship Committee of the Junior Women's Club... and then Wednesday Mrs. Keegan entertained her club at a luncheon bridge.

M E R I O N

We've heard that... the John W. Dennis, Anthony, spent last week-end in New York visiting the Warren Radcliffes... the Walter C. Neelys, Meadow lane, are in Stamford, Conn., with the George N. Brodheads, recently of Bryn Mawr... Mrs. Roderick M. Edens poured at a tea on Friday in her new home on Henley road, Overbrook Hills... and that Mr. Robert Remhart, of Heath road, has gone far from home to find his college boy, he is enrolled at Tusculum, Green, Tenn.

W Y N N E W O O D

An engagement! The J. Stanley Smiths, Overbrook, announce just that between their daughter, Miss Rita M. Smith, and Mr. Philip D. Castner, son of the Philip A. Castners, of Wynnewood.

More entertainment! October 18 Miss Margaret Frazer, Penn road, will give a bridge luncheon for her club... and Saturday the John C. Bells, of Los Cloches, put the finishing touches to the Penn Yale game by entertaining at dinner.

Travel! The Francis Travis Coxes, Sussex, have with them Mr. Cox's mother, Mrs. Lawrence Paul, who has just returned from Paris... and the Thomas Harts, Hathaway lane, sailed Saturday for a cruise to Bermuda.

Girl Scouts

Troop 230

After opening exercises, patrol leaders and their seconds had a meeting with Mrs. Eachus, who told us some things that were to be collected for the troop: (1) garments for the Needlework Guild, (2) pictures which will eventually be put into scrapbooks for the Bryn Mawr Hospital, (3) discarded books with which we will start a troop library, and (4) old or broken toys which the girls will repair and paint for the needy ones' Christmas.

Then a number of us played games while the others made decorations for the Hallowe'en party to be held the 29th.

At goodnight circle we discussed plans for a trip to Valley Forge, where we will cook our supper out of doors.

PATSY TAITT, Scriber

and Roy Greenwood; second, Mrs. J. H. Baker and Arthur Cooney.

Monday top score, Mrs. C. J. Good-year and Fred Moyer; second, Charles A. Hammer and Walter Harris.

The Women's division opened last Wednesday with a luncheon and bridge party at the clubrooms on Elmwood avenue. This group will meet every Wednesday at 1:30.

Winners last Wednesday were E. and W. top score, Mrs. J. H. Baker and Mrs. Taylor; second, Mrs. Mark Morgan and Mrs. William C. McKinley.

Penn Valley Garden Club

A visit to the Morris Arboretum is scheduled for next Wednesday (Thursday in the event of rain), starting at 2 P. M. from All Saints Church. This meeting will be in place of the regular one of the 24th.

Business Bits

The Village Store is a pleasant name for a food shop—in the Arcade, Montgomery pike near Meeting House lane... Proprietress is Mrs. Gertrude C. Usher, whose friends welcome her return to the Main Line.

And near it, yesterday, the Penn Valley Market opened with a complete line of meats, groceries, sea food and produce. Who says the chain stores are monopolizing things? Absentee ownership being what it is, and chain store taxes and fair trade laws being as they are, the independent merchants have excellent competitive offerings... And so three former A. & P. managers open a modern new market. They are W. C. Copley, popular former manager of the big Haverford avenue store in Narberth; R. S. Buckingham, manager of the St. George's road place in Ardmore, and Joseph Fee, who worked there with him.

Mrs. Florence C. Johnson, wife of the former Davis Cup star, has purchased the Wanda Ellis shop on Bala avenue near the Egyptian.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Whiteside are being congratulated on their fifteenth year in the food trade in Narberth. They are celebrating this week-end also the Quaker Stores' eighth anniversary.

Your subscription will be appreciated.

Narberth Bridge Club

Activities During Seven Years Reviewed

The Narberth Bridge Club organized in 1931 by E. C. Griswold has been an outstanding success. From a social point of view it has been enjoyable and the means of much intellectual entertainment. The club has not been unmindful of the community. Nearly every year a substantial cash contribution has been made to the local Welfare Fund at Christmas-time. Substantial sums have also been contributed to the fire company from time to time.

During the winter of 1937-38 many evenings were devoted to special duty of contract, new innovations and conventions were elucidated and discussed.

Duplicate games are held Saturdays 8:30 P. M., Mondays 8:15 P. M.
Any one desiring to play in these games is cordially invited. Table fees nominal. Guests are welcome, and are assured every courtesy. Club rooms, 102 Elmwood.

At the annual meeting officers for the ensuing year were elected. E. C.
Griswold, president; A. R. Cooney, vice-president; Jesse Harris, treasurer; Allen Shubert, secretary.

Quicksilver Associates

Nearly four years ago, in Overbrook, a group of persons interested in writing, art, and publishing, created an association to meet and co-operate with others having the same interests, in the writing, illustrating, and publishing of books.

Last spring, the Quicksilvers presented their third adventure in print.
Their second was a book of essays, their first a book of verse. The Associates, as they numbered among them many poets, had as much personal pleasure as general success in their first publication.

eral success.

At the opening meeting this season,
President Charles Eugene Claghorn tendered his resignation from office due to press of business. Miss Eliza-personality, with or without hoop.

For only $16.95 you can be picturesque in old rose tulle. If the budget says $25, be sophisticated in a strapless black net with tricky bands of black velvet around the hoop skirt. Or perhaps you would rather be dramatic in flame-colored velvet; or feminine and lovely in two shades of blue and rose, with a gathered bodice and very full skirt. But if you want a dress that sparkles and dances for you, put your $25 into the piece de resistance—a flowing white tulle, clouded with gold stars.

Orchids on your budget? If you've can't figure how to afford them on yours, drop in and see Naomi Grifcorsage. Only $1.50: beautiful Catlia purple orchids. Ask her for sugges-

What's your hobby? If you collect

Musical Musings

By JOSEPH E. BARONE

A CELEBRATED NEIGHBOR (With No Obtrusive Baton Technique)

The Main Line can well boast of having been the home of many a musical celebrity, from Serge Rachmaninoff who once resided in Bryn Mawr, to Josef Hoffman, who now lives in Merion.

However, we have living among us at present a musician of world renown, whom many of us take for granted.

He was born in Budapest, and was acclaimed a child prodigy at the tender age of three and a half years. At five he became the youngest pupil at the Royal State Academy of Music, from which he graduated with a B.A. degree at fourteen. After receiving the state diploma for violin and the state diploma as professor, he attended the University of Budapest for three years. At twenty he was appointed head of the master classes at the State Conservatorium of Music in Budapest.

A pupil of Hubay and Kodaly, he toured Hungary as a violin prodigy, later appearing in the leading capitals of Europe.

At twenty-one he came to America, where his remarkable talents with the baton soon became recognized. After some guest appearances with several of the country's foremost orchestras, he was appointed conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony.

He lives in Gladwyne, and until recently, in Wynnewood. Yes, he is our own Eugene Ormandy, music director of the Philadelphia Orchestra.

Facing overwhelming prejudice when he first arrived here, he has won his way into the hearts of even his most biased critics.

He is renowned for his reverent devotion to the music of Beethoven, a fact which he proved beyond a doubt when he offered a complete cycle of this composer's symphonic works during his first season in Philadelphia.
Like Toscanini and Schnabel, he possesses the rare faculty to completely submerge his own personality in the work he is performing, and to present not an "interpretation," but a sincere, faithful conception of the composer's intentions.

Acclaimed as the greatest exponent of the music of Richard Strauss, he is equally without peer in the realm of Johann Strauss and the Viennese waltz.

His memory is phenomenal, and though he rarely conducts with a score, he never misses an entrance or a nuance, whether he is performing Mozart or Schoenberg.

We should indeed be proud of our celebrated neighbor, for in his quiet, scholarly manner, devoid of all obtrusive baton technique, he has become one of the greatest conductors
the world has ever known.

I saw an amazing value at Gil-man's, Inc., yesterday: Eight covered onion soup bowls, each a different color, in the California pottery that has been attracting so much attention lately...They are fine also for individual meat pies or casseroles, and best of all, they are oven proof...
$5.95 for the set, just this month, for they usually sell at $1.10 apiece; quite a saving isn't it? At 47 St.
George's, Ardmore.

It's always encouraging to see local girls make good in their own home town. Jackson and Foltz have the attractive new hosiery shop on Haverford avenue, across from the Nar-berth Station. There you will find a pleasant atmosphere, cheerful service and fine hosiery, priced from 65 cents. You will receive a bonus card with your first purchase, which entitles you to a free pair of hosiery with each twelve pairs bought.

Do you recall the baby deer in "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs?"
They are done in pottery, at Mrs.
Jefferies' shop, 223 Haverford, Nar-berth. I've never seen anything cuter than the matching lamps and plant holders in this Disney characterization. They can be ordered in royal blue, burgundy, green, turquoise, yellow and white. The lamps are three dollars and the plant holders a can't help falling in love with them.

old-fashioned flannel nightgown? The Patricia Elizabeth Shop, 125 North Narberth, near the theatre, has something you'll enjoy even better: Balbriggan tuck-stitch pajamas and nightgowns in tea rose, dusty rose, aqua, claret and green. They're the real McCoy—or rather, the real Munsingwear—$1.85 for pajamas and $1.35 to $1.85 for the nightgowns.

An electric stove is one of the greatest boons to the modern woman that our wonderful century has produced. Put your whole dinner in the oven, set your time clock and go off to your club meeting or bridge party, serene in the confidence that your dinner will be ready to serve when you return. They're a blessing and a time saver in so many ways, and easy to keep clean. Walter J. Scott, 108 Forest, Narberth, can tell you about them.

Don't miss the window at Ye Oddity Shoppe this week (209 Haverford, Narberth). There's a grand display of Swedish supper trays with a range of prices from $3.50 to ten dollars. And be sure to ask Mrs. Nash to show you the wooden bread scoop for serving pretzels, etc. They are both quaint and clever for passing around the old favorites and have just been featured in the October issue of American Home magazine. They are two dollars.

Your sincere observer,
